Stepping into the Spotlight: WINS Student Competition

Building on the practical classroom trials of our well-being strategies, the WINS Student Competition offers a brilliant opportunity for students to step into the spotlight and showcase their innovative mental health and emotional intelligence initiatives. Stemming from the practical tools explored during the WINS Continuing Professional Development Programme, this competition invites students to design and share unique projects that foster a supportive, thriving school environment. By presenting their ideas at both national and international levels—with 3 works submitted per partner and awarded at the final conference—our students are actively driving a sustainable culture of positive well-being across European schools.
